Thinking Out Loud

G. W. L.

Now that thousands of college and high school graduates have been turned out of their respective alma maters, the problem comes to our attention, of what to do with them. They have brand new, shiny diplomas stating that they are bachelors of arts, and what have you. Many of them will be absorbed into the maelstrom of the business and financial world. Many more will be unable to find their proper niche in the harsh world of reality. However, the times have changed in the past four years. No longer does the graduate regard the world as an abstract which owes him a living.

The graduate today is not cocky, rather he is assured. He knows that whatever he gets will be through his own ability and labor. The golden age of "easy money" is past. Opportunity no longer knocks, but must be sought. The graduate, through a pronounced change on our educational thought realizes this, and in most cases has prepared for it. They know that today they must produce results and cut the buck—or fall by the wayside.

With the adjournment of the 74th Congress, we are reminded of the exploits of the State of Washington's Representative in that august (?) assembly, Congressman Zioncheck. His madcap and disgraceful sprees and drunken escapades must cause many people to feel that Congress is merely a collection of assorted delegates who have been elected with no particular qualifications, for the guidance of a great country. It has been said that the senate is only the most "exclusive club in America!" If the basis for election to Congress is to be an ability to keep in the public eye and be a public laughing stock, why not elect Jimmy Durante or Eddie Cantor, who make a business of it?

The California Committee on Better Citizenship is now campaigning to stimulate the interests of the voters of this state in the coming election. The commitee is non-partisan and is composed of the heads of fraternal organizations. It is free of politics of any kind. The object, of course, is not only to overcome the apathy of the electorate of America, but to arouse them to seek out the answers to "22 Questions on Better Citizenship," which are printed in another section of this paper. The answers will be found in booklet form at the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce or at the Nugget office

The streets of Nevada City are assuming a festive air, with flags and banners of every state in the Union. From near and far farmer Nevada Cityans are preparing to return home for the three-day celebration of the 160th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. With a united community, the City That Knows How, is set to put on a real show for the visitors.

Across the Atlantic in France, another dictatorship movement is underway. Led by De la Rocque, head of the Croix de Feu organization, French veterans are demonstrating against Leon Blum, socialist Premier of France. That France may soon join the two other great nations in the hands of dictators is very possible. When that happens the powder box that is Europe, may explode with disastrous results to the rest of the world. On the sanity and coolness of England must be placed the faith of this country, to prevent another war.

High School Board Makes Statement

A great deal of publicity has been spread about in our community concerning certain recent happenings in the Nevada high school, and much false information has apparently been disseminated. For this reason a clear statement of the facts from this board seems to be warranted.

Several days before Graduation Day, 27 out of 43 members of the senior class decided to take a "skip day", in the face of distinct school regulations to the contrary. When the students failed to appear at school, they were promptly notified by the principal, through the class advisor, that their action was in violation of school regulations, and would be appropriately punished unless the offenders returned to roll call—in which case the matter would be forgotten. Two boy students took enough interest in the matter to call upon the principal—one of them rejoining his class at school, the other casting his lot with the truants. The latter, fully warned that their action constituted a flouting of school auhority, and with full understanding of the consequences, persisted in their plan, and deliberately walked out for the day.

In order that the principal's decision as to the punishment of these pupils might be given full consideration by the faculty and the board of education, a joint meeting of these bodies was held prior to graduation day, and the action of Principal Kjorlie was upheld and approved by every member of both bodies in attendance at the meeting with the exception only of the senior class advisor. With the approval of Mr. Kporlie, certain features of the proposed punishment were ameliorated and the reprimand as finally put into effect was as follows: All senior class students to receive diplomas at graduation, except that the diplomas of truant students would not bear the signature of the principal; one day's absence to be made up by such students, the day following graduation, upon completion of which students were to obtain and did obtain the necessary signature to diplomas.

There is nothing very drastic or unfair in this arrangement so far as this board can see—nor do we believe that the majority of the students concerned feel that they have been treated unjustly. No student has been humiliated; every student scholarstically competent has been graduated. In many schools, students so defying authority might have fared much worse.

This incident is obviously one entirely concerned with the proper maintenance of constituted authority in the school, in which respect, principal Kjorlie was merely carrying out the well understood policy of this board that students must at all times respect and abide by school regulations. In spite of this, a number of individuals have seized upon the occasion to voice complaints against Mr. Kjorlie, expressed in a petition to this board signed by sundry citizens, some of whom are not voters of the district. For reasons which are apparent, this petition has been laid on the table. Altogether, it seems to us that the principal of the school has been subjected to a great deal of unwarranted criticism and adverse comment for carrying out the plain details of his duty, and it is only fair to Mr. Kjorlie to state that this board fully approves the measures employed by him in carrying out school discipline, and is duly appreciative of his able and conscientious efforts which have contributed in no small measure to the present excellent standing of Nevada City high school.

NEV. CITY WHISKERINOS AID WATT PARK DAY

It is estimated fully 2,500 people attended the full day's program put on Sunday by the Community Service Council and Whiskerinos of Nevada City and Grass Valley, in the effort to save Watt Park for the public's use, by raising a $1500 mortgage on the property.

The Nevada City Whiskerinos baseball team defeated the Grass Valley Whiskerinos by a score of 14 to 3: Grass Valley won the tug-of-war contest; George Goudge, won the greased pig contest; Bud Hutton carried off honors in the mucking contest by a five minute and 23 second score.

Funds from the big Whiskerino's dance and other monies collected brought the previous amount to $1071, and it is felt assured the debt will be raised and there will be money left over for some improvements. Dr. Daniel Hirsch, president of the Council, will receive the deed to the park after all debts have veen paid.

Mr E.arl Covey was chairman of the Camp Fire program in the evening. While Mr. Eben Smart, was master of ceremonies.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR LYMAN WEEKS, JR.

Little Lyman Weeks, Jr., of Gold Flat aged one month and 20 days, who passed away the latter part of last week, was buried from the Holmes Funeral Home in Nevada City at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Charles F. Washburn of the Episcopal church officiated. Burial was made in Pine Grove cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoge, Jr., left Monday for an auto trip through the states of Nevada, Utah, Montana and Oregon. They will visit Salt Lake City, Yellowstone National Park, Butte, Montana; The Dalles, Oregon; besides many other interesting places, covering between three and four thousand miles during their vacation and will return about July first.

ANOTHER ALIBI FOUND BY LOCAL FISHERMAN

A fishing party composed of E. Noyes, John Gaskins of the Nevada City Drug store, and L. Lewis, of Grass Valley, set out early Sunday morning to catch some of the big trout they had been hearing about, and stopped at Milton lake. They caught several fine fish, but mosquitos were almost unbearable. Every effort was made to get rid of them even raising their jackets and fishing through tiny peep holes and the insects dived into them. Finally Lewis gave up letting the insects help themselves, and his arm, neck and hands are plentiful evidence. He said he thought they had in mind he was a tourist, but Mr. Haskins claims they are of the black bird variety with woodpecker abilities, biting through a heavy coat of sunburn.

To cap it all E. Noyes, of a local electrical firm, had visions of winning the prize offered in the new drug store, when he flipped a 17-inch beauty out and was taking off the scales, when zip went a mosquito on his ear. As he made a pass at the insect the fish jumped into the lake—or at least so Noyes claims.

One hundred girl reserves from the bay district passed through Nevada City today enroute to Gold Hollow for their vacation. A number of young women from Mills College, Oakland returned home today making room for this group who have taken a lease on the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Long and daughter, Miss Margaret Long, motored to Marysville Monday. Miss Long took the train to Chico where she is a student in Chico state college. She is staying with her uncle Joe C. Long who is in charge of the U. S. Plant Introductory Gardens.

Messrs. Hal Draper, local assayer Norman Wagner and Donald Strandberg of Nevada City made an inspection of a mining property at Alleghany last Saturday.

NEW ROUTE TO ALLEGHANY DISCUSSED

The Sierra county road committee met Saturday with representatives from the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce and Edward J. Neron of the State Highway Department to discuss the possibility of getting a new or practically new road into Alleghany. A. J. Just, president of the Sierra County Chamber of Commerce presided over the meeting.

B. C. Goldsmith of the U. S. Forest Service stated that a Forest Service engineer would make a survey of the new route proposed. The new route advocated would leave the Ridge road at Snellman's and keep on an even grade to join the Foote road at or near Red Ledge. The road at the approach to Alleghany would be re-aligned and would come in near the Sixteen-to-One mine in a gradual approach.

After the Forest Survey has been made a reconaissance by the state will be asked. Another proposed route was presented in a rough sketch by Bert Austin of the Sixteen-to-One, in which an entirely new road would be constructed from Freeman's Crossing.

Until this time no concerted action has been taken by the communities interested, and it is thought that with the backing of civic organizations something definite may be accomplished in the near future in regard to the badly needed road.

Hope was held that Federal as well as State aid for the project may be secured, as the Forest Service wishes to open up by road that country which is now accessible only by foot.

Nevada City men who attended the meeting were: F. F. Cassidy, Geo. Calanan, Geo. Walling, T. Richards, R. L. Bigelow and B. C. Goldsmith.

L. R. JEFFORD BUILDS NEW FUNERAL HOME

L. R. Jefford, Nevada County coroner and proprietor of the W. R. Jefford and Son Funeral Parlors, in this city and Grass Valley, yesterday announced that construction would begin immediately on a new funeral home at the corner of South Church and Walsh streets in Grass Valley.

The new building will be of the very latest design, and will have many new features added to its construction. The chapel will seat 200 persons, with room for more if needed. It is estimated that the construction of the building will take from three to four months, and will be ready for occupancy before the winter months.

20,000 WORK SHEETS SIGNED IN CALIFORNIA IN CONSERVATION PLAN

20,000 work sheets have been filled out by California farmers in the signup campaign for the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program which ends July 15 in this state, it was estimated today by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration regional headquarters in Berkeley, California.

County and community committeemen are making concentrated efforts to acquaint farmers with the provisions of the new national soil conservation plan and urging them to file work sheets. Filling out a work sheet places no obligation on the farmer, but one must be filled out for each farm he owns or operates in the county if he is to become eligible for a soil conservation grant. There will be no contracts to sign.

The main purpose of the work sheet is to aid in establishing a soil-depleting base on the land of each farmer who desires to cooperate in the national plan for conserving and improving soil resources. The work sheets require the following information: (1) a detailed description of the location of the farm; (2) distribution of farm acreage according to the crops grown in 1935; (3) AAA contract information; and (4) the yield of the mapor crops on the land. Work sheets and assistance in filling them out may be obtained from county farm advisors or county or communitl committeemen.

Incendiary Suspected As Six Fires Blaze

State Ranger William F. Sharp and crew of several men were kept on the jump Sunday afternoon as six fires sprang up in rapid succession, starting at three minutes to five and being all out at a quarter to six. Three were on the McCormack property in the Canada Hill district and three on the Taylor ground on the ridge south and above Gold Flat. The fires ranged from less than a quarter of an acre to an acre and Mr. Sharp stated that they were evidently of incendiary origin, and that it seemed as if someone set the fires as they went from the McCormack property west and out over the hill in a good stand of pine timber. The regular summer crew of fire fighters have not been put on and it kept the present force on the jump. Several neighbors in the Gold Flat area responded and assisted in putting out the fires.

Mr. Sharp was called to Rice's Crossing on the North Yuba river last Thursday afternoon to extinguish a fire that burned over twenty acres of grass before being brought under control. It started along the side of the Downieville Nevada City highway and spread rapidly.

SAFE DRIVERS IN MOTORCADE TO NEW YORK

Setting in motion plans for selection of a California delegate to the nation wide motorcade of safe drivers that will converge upon New York City on August 31, the California State Automobile Association today announced that entry blanks for candidates will be available at each of its offices.

Arrangements for the motorcade are being directed by the American Automobile Association through its affiliated clubs, of which the California association is the largest.

One outstanding safe driver in each state will be picked to make the trip to New York to participate in a two day "accident clinic" for the diagnosis of dangerous driving practices and to advance their own ideas for the most practicable remedies. Expenses of delegates will be paid and various honors will be bestowed.

In order to be eligible as a candidate, applicants must have driven private passenger automobiles for at least ten years and covered at least 50,000 miles in that time. They must also have a clean accident record, with no traffic violation conviction during the ten years. Selection of each state's delegate will be by a board of judges under general rules laid down by the AAA.

Departure of the delegate from each state will be timed so that all will arrive in New York the afternoon of August 31. They will be required to drive a prescribed route in such a manner as to provide a demonstration of safe driving, and to make a full report of any accident in which they might figure enroute.

Later in the season each farmer will have an opportunity to makea formal application for a grant under the program and then his farming operations will be checked to see if he is entitled to a grant.

NEVADA CITY FOURTH PLANS TAKE SHAPE

Nevada City has taken on a gala appearance within the last few days as 40 or more pay streamers of flags are floating in the breeze over the streets in the business section, and welcome banners are strung at the several entrances to the city. Mr. E. J. N. Ott, chairman of the decoration committe, stated that the flags of the 48 states of the Union are in the decorations. The usual evergreens, pines or cedar, will be placed at each pillar in the business district about three days before the celebration opens.

Mr. Charles Leiter, general chairman of the Fourth of July celebration, stated plans are shaping up nicely for a bigger and better celebration. Many floats are being entered and more enthusiasm is being shown.

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, chairman of the parade committee, stated this morning that the general theme is 49'ers, but that any type of float is acceptable, as the parade will be in several divisions, each theme to its division. He urges as many as possible to turn out for the big event. Costumes of the 49'er times are especially urged so as to make the big affair as colorful as possible.

Banner Mt. Post, V. F. W. are going forward with plans for a fine program at Armory Hall commencing the evening of July third, and fifth. The Post is offering $50 in lasting until the evening of July jrizes, among the offers being listed are $10. Oldest couple in costume! $10 couple with most original costume; $10 prize waltz, $5 best set of whiskers.

HANGAR PERMITS SOUGHT ON NEVADA CITY AIRPORT

There are four different groups applying for permits to use the Nevada City airport, north of Nevada City's limits and owned by the city. Messrs. Edinger and Lewis appeared at the last meeting of the Nevada City council and it is understood that four men would unite in building a hangar on the field for their use and ask about securing a lease.

Mr. Ed C. Uren, city engineer, stated today he was returning a letter to Postmaster Betty Martin West in which he Department of Commerce was making inquiries on the air port and its condition. Mr. Uren wrote Congressman Harry L. Englebright about the field May 27 and as yet has had no word from him. The title to a part of the property is not clear and this prevents securing more government money. It is figured more work can be secured from the WPA this fall or as soon as the title is clear.

The closing of the MacBoyle air port on the Loma Rica ranch south of Nevada City to public use in 30 days, makes it necessary for outsiders using the field to secure another airport.

FOURTH COMMITTEES TO REPORT TONIGHT

Chairman C. W. Leiter, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Fourth of July committee, has called a meeting tonight at the Chamber of Commerce for the various committees to report what has actually been accomplished by them up to this time.

With the Fourth less than two weeks away now Leiter stressed the need for action and results That this Fourth will be one of the greatest in Nevada City's history, there is no doubt, but definite results right now are going to really put the affair over the top.

The meeting is called for eight o'clock sharp.

A Plank For Consumers

(Contributed)

They've been thinking up "planks" at Cleveland for the Republican party platform, and toward the end of the month the Democrats will get together to think up some for theirs.

In both platforms there will be planks for the farmer, for business, for labor, for youth, for the aged, for the unemployed—which is all well and good, since each of these individual groups within our population has a right to know what the rival parties plan to do for them.

But has anyone thought of a plank for the consumer?

It's just possible that millions who have no particular axe to grind, but who do have to make dollars go as far as possible even to get food enough, would like to know what the parties plan to do for them.

Laws that boost the consumer's food costs—not so the extra money he lays out goes to the farmers, but rather to pay for lost economies of volume and direct-to-buyer merchandising—are a major issue in the nation today. How do the parties stand on this issue?

Whatever the other complex arguments, the obvious net result of prohibitively heavy taxes on multiple stores is simply this: a bill adding up to about ten cents more every time a consumer fills the market basket with a dollar's worth of steak, spinach, breakfast food, etc.

Maybe the political parties believe consumers are willing to pay this cost for whatever else the laws will do. If so let the party platforms carry "consumers' planks" saying as much; but in any case, have such planks, and not dodge an issue so important.

Or perhaps, so long as the consumer remains unorganized and unchampioned, the only "plank" ever fashioned for him will be the kind with a handle on it—one they can swing like a ball bat.

G-Men Get Pensions

(Contributed)

With scarcely a dissenting voice, Congress last week achieved the amazing distinction of having passed a law that will meet with unanimous approval throughout the country.

They voted to provide pensions for G-men.

Now those fearless Federal agents who transmogrified all the swaggering Dillingers, Campbells and Lloyds into a pack of cowering, cringing hyenas and then wiped them out shortly after, are certainly deserving of this consideration.

The surprising thing is that we've overlooked for so long this business of making provision for their declining years. Members of all other law enforcing bodies have always had such provision.

Chief G-man J. Edgar Hoover, when informed of the congressional action, said:

"I'm greatly gratified. When our men go out after such men as Dillinger, Karpis, or Campbell, they never know whether they'll come back alive. Surely they deserve pension privileges just as much as other peace officers."

It is probably that nowhere in the nation will there be a dissenting voice to this observation. After all, the country was infested with big time gangsters until the Federals moved in. And now the big-timers are so scarce they cannot find a candidate eligible for the unhealthy role of public enemy No. 1.

Let it never be said that America does not appreciate the work of the G-men.

In a gorgeous setting of grand trees and pleasant surroundings with a fine well arranged porch where in comfortable booths one can enjoy an evening while listening to the entertainment and partaking of the viands from all parts of the world the Heidelberg invites everyone to come for that evening out.

The property has been purchased by Aline Ellis from the Joerske family and no expense is being spared to make it an ideal setting for catering to those who love good entertainment, fine sandwiches, and the drinks which will go with such food. There are several olive trees peeping in to the porch and inevery respect it is an ideal spot. Music and dancing will be featured.

Quartz and placer claim location notice blanks at the Nugget office.

Editor's Note: With the revived interest in California history, The Nugget presents another in the series of historical early California missions.

In the Valley of the Bears, so named by Gaspar de Portola and his men on their first expedition from San Diego north in search of Monterey Bay in 1769, Father Junipero Serra on September 1, 1772, founded the Mission San Luis Obispo de Tolosa, fifth in his chain of Franciscan stations.

Progressing slowly on their march northward, Portola and his soldiers encountered many ferocious bears between the mouth of the Santa Maria River and the present site of San Luis Obispo and killed a number of them for food. Father Juan Crespi, whose ability for picking future mission locations was remarkable, accompanied Portola as did Father Francisco Gomez. Both padres left for posterity interesting diaries describing the trip and the discovery of what now is San Luis Obispo. While the soldiers called the valley where the Valley of Bears, Fr. Crespi named it La Canada de la Natividad de Neustra Senora because he arrived there on the eve of the Nativity of the Blssed Virgin, September 7, 1769.

As we know, Portola failed to find Monterey Bay and returned to San Digeo discouraged and determined to return to Mexico. However, he was spurred on to make another attempt by Fr. Serra and set out again from San Diego on April 17, 1770, while Fr. Serra, presidente of the California Missions, went with a sea expedition which anchored in Monterey Bay shortly after Portola reached there by land.

Ten Franciscan friars arrived at Monterey from Mexico on May 21, 1771, but lack of food supplies at Monterey and San Diego, delayed the founding of Mission San Luis Obispo. Indeed, while awaiting ships and supplies from Mexico, Captain Pedro Fages with some of his men returned to the Valley of the Bears on a hunting trip and sent back to Monterey and Mission San Antonio 9,000 pounds of bear meat.

The ships with food reached San Diego in August, 1772, and landed with their cargoes there for transportation north. So Fr. Serra set out for San Diego Fages, determined to found Mission San Luis Obispo on his way south.

DESCRIPTION OF SAN LUIS OBISPO

Those familiar with the thriving city of San Luis Obispo of today, where is situated the mission of that name, may be interested in the description of the site as recorded by Fr. Francisco Palou, biographer of Fr. Serra. Speaking of the expedition of Fages and the establishment of the mission, Fr. Palou wrote:

"Thus in time the company arrived in the vicinity of Bear Valley. After surveying the locality, it was determined to found the mission about half a league before reaching the Canada do los Osos, yet in sight of it, on a level plot, which to all appeared most suitable for the mission on account of two little arroyos which contained water with sufficient lands that with but little trouble could be irrigated from them. For the site of the mission a slight elevation below which ran the two arroyos was designated. The Cross was constructed and immediately an arbor (enramada(was erected for the chapel. After the blessing and the sacred ceremonies. the Standard of our Redemption was planted and venerated. On September first of said year 1772, the Rev. Father Presidente Serra celebrated the first holy mass on an altar, which had been prepared in the arbor, and thus the beginning was made of the mission dedicated in honor of San Luis Obispo do Tolosa."

The padres of those early mission days were ennured to privations, but it would seem that Fr. Jose Cavaller left at San Luis Obispo by Fr. Serra when he resumed his journey to San Diego, must have been endowed with superhuman ability to sustain himself and his assistants on scant rations for Fr. Palou records that:

"As a guard for said mission, Captain Fages left two leather jacket soldiers and three Catalonian volunteers. In addition, the Fr. Presidente assigned two Lower Californio neophytes in order that they might begin to build the dwelling and chapel. For the maintenance of the missionary Father, the five soldiers and the two Indians, the captain left there fifty pounds of flour, three pecks of wheat for sowing, a quantity of chocolate, and a box of

REQUIREMENTS GIVEN TO GET PAYMENT IN FARM PROGRAM

"To qualify for payments under the Agricultural Conservation program," states F. E. Gordon, Emergency Asst. in Agricultural Extension "farmers must submit actual evidence showing positive performance by them in improving and conserving their farm land.

"There will be no contracts between farmers and the Secretary of Agriculture. Performance indicating soil building and soil conserving must be certified to by the county committees. Payments will be made if the minimum requirements for 1936 plantings of soil conserving crops are met. The minimum requirement is that the total acreage of soil conserving and soil building crops shall at least equal either (a) 15 per cent of the farm's soil-depleting base or (b) the percentage on which a soil conserving payment can be made in cases of special crops such as cotton, tobacco, flax, rice and sugar beets.

"Certification for payment will be made by the county committee upon application by farmers after performance has been demonstrated. No payment will be made unless work sheets have been previously executed."

All farmers, regardless of whether or not it appears they are now eligible for payment or grants, are advised by Mr. Gordon to submit work sheets at the earliest possible date. These work sheets may be prepared and filed with any of the community committee men whose names are listed below or with Miss Edith Scott in the Chamber of Commerce office at Grass Valley.

"Payments," states Mr. Gordon, "are to be divided between landlord and tenant where each shares in the crop or its proceeds. Under the terms of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, the objectives of which are being carried out by the Agricultural Conservation program of the AAA, it is provided that the interests of share-croppers, tenants, and small producers be protected and tenants and share-croppers are specifically included in the act as agricultural producers."

MAJOR BOWES PLAYERS IN GRASS VALLEY TUESDAY

The Major Bowes Unit No. 11 which comes to the Veterans Memorial building tomorrow, contains eight acts of national winners from Major Bowes Sunday night broadcasts. To see these future stars in person is in itself a rare treat, but the Whiskerinos and civic organizations in the "Save Watt Park" movement have decided to give a few local tyros a chance to appear on the same program.

Here is a real opportunity for ambitious talented persons to compare their ability with that of the fortunate youngsters who have already appeared with the famous Major. No prizes or awards are offered. The presentation is not a contest but a chance to appear on the same program with others who have "made the grade." J. H. Kennedy, a personal representative of Major Bowes will be at the Veterans Memorial building for the presentation

This plan of allowing local amateurs to appear with Major Bowes touring proteges is conceived to offer encouragement to the talented tyros of the community who are striving for recognition.

The county board of supervisors have proclaimed next Tuesday, June 24, "Major Bowes Day" in Nevada county. The major has been sent an honorary membership card and button of the Nevada County Whiskerino Club, No. 57.

Mrs. Aline Ellis, who purchased the old tavern and surrounding lot from Mrs. Joerscke near Shaw's fruit stand, has built a beautiful new home to the east of the big building. The home was furnished with everything for comfort, antique tables, turkish rugs, rare and elegant tapestries, throughout the living rooms, a kitchen with every modern convenience and a bath room furnished in onyx and burgundy colors. It is one of the most beautifully furnished homes in Nevada county.

"MESSAGE TO GARCIA" AT NEVADA THEATRE

To Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles fall the coveted romantic roles of Darryl F. Zanuck's "A Message to Garcia." the glamorous story of an adventure that changed the destinies of three nations, which comes to the Nevada Theatre tonight and Tuesday. There is a matinee Tuesday.

Teamed with the boisterous Wallace Beery, they enact a story of high adventure, of courage in the line of duty, and of love born of hardship and peril faced together in the treacherous jungle.

Although the girl is left behind when Boles and Beery forge ahead to their goal, they are all rejoined in the end. And a crashing, pulse-pounding climax permits Beery to lead Garcia's men to the aid of Boles and Miss Stanwyck and to bring the picture to a happy close.

On Wednesday and Thursday the Nevada Theatre will show Eddie Cantor let loose in a gigantic amusement park. The picture is "Strike Me Pink". Eddie is cast as a timid fellow who takes a correspondence course in acquiring a dominating personality and becomes manager of Dreamland Amusement Park. Here he becomes involved with a gang of slot machine racketeers who have put every previous manager on the spot. The film presents the beautiful MGM girls in singing and dancing numbers, and Ethel Merman and Sally Eilers are the feminine stars.

We'll Take A Ride

I think that I shall never care
To walk the golden street,
I've no desire to strum a harp
And endless praise repeat;
I couldn't use a glittering crown—
The thing would slip awry
And hang suspended rakishly

I'd tangle in the flowing robes
And get an akward fall,
And when I tried my big pink wings,
They wouldn't work at all;
Of course I'd moult unseasonably,
And, as the feathers flew,
I'd blush quite incandescently
And shun the saints I knew.

Perhaps I should not fume and fret
About the future state,
And what to do and what to say
Before the pearly gate;
For when Saint Peter says to me,
"Your mortal deeds rehearse,"
And I admit that while an earth
I perpetuated verse,—

No doubt he'll frown and shake his head
And say, "You can't come in;
Up here with us this rhyming game
Is rated deadly sin;
The shining gates will shut me out,
And as I step aside,
A voice will hiss, "get in the skip,
You're going for a ride."

Then for a million long light years
Down, down, straight down I'll go,
With other gibbering rhyming ghosts;
Just which ones? I don't know.

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

AUTO ASSOC. SEEKS TAX ON DIESEL FUEL

Opposition to a proposed initiative measure purporting to prevent diversion of gasoline tax funds was voiced today by the California State Automobile Association in a statement declaring the measure to be "full of jokers" and likely to disrupt the present successful plan of state highway financing.

"Widespread sentiment against using highway funds for other purposes is apparently being appealed to by originators of the measure as a means of achieving their real aims, foremost of which is to provide a virtual subsidy for Diesel-operated trucks," the association statement asserted.

Petitions are now being circulated to qualify the measure for the November ballot in the form of a constitutional amendment. The Automobile Association warned citizens "not to be misled by the 'save the gas tax' slogan being used in obtaining signatures."

Contained in the measure the association pointed out, is a provision that would limit the per gallon tax on Diesel fuel for motor vehicles to the same rate per gallon as the tax on gasoline. This would result in Diesel users paying only a fraction of the tax per mile of highway used as gasoline vehicle operators, owing to the greater mileage per gallon of Diesel fuel, the Association emphasized.

"The evident aim of this provision," said the association, "is to forestall an equitable Diesel tax measure at the next legislature, there being at present no tax on Diesel fuel for highway use."

Among other features of the measure objected to by the association are provisions which it declared tinker undesirably with allocation of various motor vehicle revenues, such as the three per cent gross receipts tax on commercial vehicles and three per cent tax on motor vehicles bought outside the state.

"With the principle of no diversion of highway funds already established by overwhelming vote of the people, the Automobile Association is opposed to that principle being used as a cloak for a measure designed primarily to benefit one class of highway users at the expense of all others," the statement concluded.

NATIVE SONS AND DAUGHTERS WAR ON REDS

STOCKTON, June 20.—Addressing Native Daughters of the Golden West, assembled here for their 50th annual state-wide convention, Hartley Russell, Grand President of the Native Sons of the Golden West today urged Native Daughters to join with the Native Sons in a relentless fight against communism and other subversive movements threatening to undermine the foundation of the American principle of government.

"Now is the time for both the orders of Native Daughters of the Golden West and the Native Sons of the Golden West to wage a relentless battle against communism and all other political "sms" threatening to undermine Americanism," Hartley Russell declared. "Let not our stand suffice to the utterances of condemnation of their sinister influences and nefarious practices, but let us foster legislation that will demolish and annihilate these vicious forces.

"Communists, who are aliens are easily handled under our present laws, but undesirable naturalized citizens are more than a problem. As Grand President of the Native Sons of the Golden West I shall present to the next legislature of the state

SAN LUIS OBISPO MISSION FOUNDED 1772

brown sugar for which later they might obtain wild seed from the gentiles (Indians.")

Just what Fr. Cavaller would have done had the natives proved hostile is problematical, but it so happened that the Indians were grateful to Captain Fages and his soldiers for having slain so many savage bears that frequently attacked and killed them that they came in numbers to the embryo mission bringing venison and wild seeds which furnished sustenance for the little band.

FIRST YEAR HARD

The first year was a hard one for Fr. Cavaller. Three times the mission suffered from fire, the first being started by a disgruntled Indian who fired a blazing arrow into the grass roof of the mission building. The origin of the other two fires was not known. However, they proved of benefit because the mission fathers contrived to find a way to make tiles with which they roofed their structures and all other missions did likewise.

Fr. Serra stopped at San Luis Obispo in May 1774 on his way from Mexico to Monterey and expressed himself delighted with the progress made. He, himself, baptized six Indians. By the end of 1774 about 107 Indians had been baptized and twenty eight marriages blessed.

On March 1, 1776, Lieutenant Colonel Juan Bautista Anza and his expedition stopped at the mission on their second trip from Sonora, Mexico, to San Francisco and Fr. Pedro Font of Mission San Joseph do los Pinos, Sonora, left behind him an interesting and accurate account of Anza's journey and the visit to San Luis Obispo.

"The Indians of this mission," Fr. Font wrote on his visit to San Luis Obispo, "are clean, tidy and better looking and handsomer than those of any other tribes so far as I have seen."

Fr. Serra visited San Luis Obispo again on November 28, 1778 and confirmed fifty three neophytes. Again in March, 1782, the Fr. Presidente of the Missions appeared at the mission and confirmed seventy nine neophytes He was enroute south and in May on his way back to Monterey he paid another visit. On November 29, 1783, he came to say farewell to the padres realizing that his advancing years would make any future journey to his beloved stations impossible.

Though Mission San Luis Obispo was one of the smallest of the missions, it nevertheless contributed its shart of an assessment levied against the California Franciscans in 1782 by the king of Spain to help him carry on his war against England. It sent $107 to Spain.

From 1794 to 1809 building operations at San Luis Obispo were quite extensive. In 1804 the mission had its greatest number of neophytes, 832, and by the end of that year the records showed a total of 2,074 baptisms and 1,091 deaths. In May, 1807 the mission was designated as one of six missions in which the California padres could make their annual retreats for spiritual exercises.

Beginning in 1811 and continuing through 1820, the missionary fathers caused to be erected numerous dwellings for their Indians, made many improvements and additions to the mission and in 1819 finished constructing the quadrangle of the mission. A year later the two mission bells arrived from Lima, Peru.

Following Mexico's revolt against Spain in 1810, Mission San Luis Obispo was compelled, as were all the California missions, to contribute food and clothing to the army, which the government ceased to support. Fr. Luis Martinez at San Luis Obispo many times found himself and his Indian wards suffering privations because of the constant demands of the military.

FATHER MARTINEZ

Fr. Martinez was a jovial soul and his wit and good humor won him widespread fame in those early days. His sarcastic comments on the idleness of the soldiers got him into trouble with Governor Sola in 1816, but two years later he won the good graces of the army when he valiantly led a company of his Indians to Santa Barbara and San Juan Capistrano, many leagues distant, to help defend the missions against two shiploads of South American privateers who had landed at Monterey and engaged in lotting and then sailed south to Santa Barbara and San Juan Capistrano. Governor Sola so far forgot his animosity toward Fr. Martinez as to recommend him highly as Viceroy Vendito. Fr. Martinez even contributed clothing to ragged soldiers without a demand being made upon him.

It seems a pity that he could not have finished out his missionary days under the happy circumstances that surrounded him at this time, the year 1822. But tragedy for Fr. Martinez lay just ahead.

Repeated offenses by soldiers at the mission forced Fr. Martinez to complain bitterly to the governor. Finally, in January, 1825, abuses heaped upon the padre by insolent soldiers caused Fr. Martinez to close the doors of the church to them and later to apply for a passport to leave the country. One Vicente Cano falsely reported to Governor Jose de Echeandia, enemy of the missions, that Fr. Martinez contemplated flight, had shipped $6,000 of mission money to Mexico. The story, as old records show, had no foundation of fact, yet it was the beginning of the end for Fr. Martinez.

Piety Is Preserved In City Names

Residents of Piety Hill in Nevada City lack any particular reputation for piety, even if their daily life is bound up with biblical names. For instance,a resident may live in Gethsemane without being in sorrow and he may traverse Tribulation Trail without being in trouble. The pictures show some of the unusual [illegible] and place designations in the neighborhood. Top left, Miss Adele Koerschke pointing to the sign designating Jordan street; top right, the steps known as Jacob's Ladder; lower left, Tribulation Trail, leading from Gault Bridge to Piety Hill; lower right, Ramona Kitts doing some mild acrobatics on Gethsemane Street. —Photos by Tom Arden Bee's Grass Valley and Nevada City Correspondent.

of California a resolution memoralizing, the Congress of the United States to enact a modified naturalization law, whereby those who apply and become citizens of the United States of America, are given such citizenship contingent only upon their continuous subscription to our present form of government.

"Any violation of this oath would automatically subject them to expatriation and deportation When the communists and others realize that we intend to rule them with that same iron hand that they desire to rule us. America's present system of government will be quite acceptable to them.

"Every member of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States will receive a copy of my proposed legaslation, the introduction of which will be made by one of our own California representatives in Congress. This is not an idle undertaking. It is more important that we destroy all subversive forces that would undermine our government structure."

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF NEVADA DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The right, privilege and franchise of erecting, constructing and maintaining electric lines consisting of poles or other suitable structures and wires, crossarms and other appliances installed thereon, including wires for the private telephone and telegraph purposes of the grantee, in so many and such parts of the public highways, streets, roads and places of said County of Nevada as the grantee of said right, privilege and franchise may from time to time elect to use for the purposes hereinafter specified, and of using such electric lines for the purpose of transmitting, conveying, distributing and supplying electricity to the public for light, heat, power and all lawful purposes, are hereby granted by said County of Nevada for the term of fifty (50) years from and after the time when this ordinance shall take effect, to and assigns.

Section 2. All electric lines which shall be constructed and used under and pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance and in the exercise of the right, privilege and franchise herein granted shall be erected and constructed in a good and workmanlike manner under the direction of the Road Commissioner of the District in which such highways, streets and roads are and shall be maintained in compliance with all valid laws and ordinances from time to time in force.

Section 3. The owner for the time being of the said right, privilege and franchise shall, immediately upon erecting, constructing, replacing or repairing the said electric lines, or any part thereof, at its own cost and expense place said highways, streets and roads, or so much thereof as may have been damaged thereby, in as good order and condition as that in which they were before being disturbed or excavated for the purpose of erecting, constructing, replacing or repairing said electric lines or any part thereof.

Section 4. The owner for the time being of said right, privilege and franchise shall have the right to maintain, repair and replace any or all of such electric lines from time to time as may be necessary and proper.

M., on Monday, the 20th day of July, 1936; that the successful bidder and his assigns, must, during the life of said franchise, pay to said County of Nevada a percentage of the gross annual receipts to be derived from the use, operation or possession of the said right, privilege and franchise upon the terms and conditions set forth in the said form of ordinance; that the said Board will meet in open session on the day and at the hour last hereinbefore mentioned and will then and there open and read such bids; that thereupon and during such meeting the said right, privilege and franchise will be awarded to the person, firm or corporation that shall make the highest cash bid therefor, provided only that at the time of the opening of said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation present or represented may bid for such right, privilege and franchise a sum not less than ten per cent. (10%) above the highest sealed bid therefor, and said bid may be raised not less than ten per cent. (10%) by any responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said right, privilege and franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded by said Board to the highest bidder therefor, in lawful money of the United States of America, and each sealed bid shall be accompanied with cash or a certified check payable to the Treasurer of said County for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid shall be considered unless such cash or certified check shall be enclosed therewith, and the successful bidder shall deposit at least ten per ent. SAN LUIS OBISPO MISSION FOUNDED 1772

Soldiers at the presidio of Monterey revolted in November, 1829, imprisoned their officers and then Joaquin Solis, their leader, marched on Santa Barbara, where they were repulsed. Echeandia seized upon this incident to accuse Fr. Martinez of having aided Solis and on February 3, 1830, ordered the arrest of the padre on charges of treason.

Fr. Martinez was forcibly seized at San Luis Obispo and taken to the Mission Santa Barbara where he was held incommunicado. A farcial trial was held, perjured testomony taken and Fr. Martinez was ordered banished by Echeandia. The grief stricken friar sailed for Peru on March 20, 1830, at the age of sixty four and after having served thirty four years at the mission. Fr. Jose Joaquin Jimeno was sent from Mission San Luis Rey to San Luis Obispo.

Illness was decimating the ranks of the Indians at San Luis Obispo at an alarming rate and the military and civil authorities and settlers were rapidly ruining the mission by impoverishing it. Conditions at San Luis Obispo were more deplorable than at any other mission at this time. Designing politicos furnished the Indians with liquor and disorders were frequent.

In October, 1885, Manuel Jimeno Casarin was named civil commissioner to take over the mission and its property. An inventory placed the value of the mission and its possessions at $70,768. Fr. Ramon Abella remained on in the hope he could do something for his Indians. In February, 1840, he sadly reported that he did not even have candles for his church.

Eugene Duflot de Mofras, noted French writer, visited San Luis Obispo in 1841 and wrote among other things, "In the Mission building, which is now in ruin, we found reduced to a state of greatest want, the oldest Spanish Franciscan of California, the Rev. Fr. Ramon Abella. The mission has suffered such devastations that the poor friar was bedded on an oxhide, and used the horn of an ox as a drinking cup, and for nourishment had only strips of meat dried in the sun."

The story of the ruin of San Luis Obispo under successive Mexican governors is similar to that of the other missions in California, as related in preceding chapters. On December 4, 1845, Governor Pio Pico sold Mission San Luis Obispo to Scott, Wilson and McKinley for $500.

Then came American occupation of California. On September 2, 1859 President James Buchanan returned Mission San Luis Obispo and its lands to the Catholic church.

In 1857, Don Dolores Herrera, a Spanish American, whose eldest daughter had been educated at St. Vincent's College, Santa Barbara, and who was teaching school in San Luis Obispo, deeded to Right Re. Father Thaddeus Amat, Bishop of Monterey and Los Angeles, a block of land in the rear of the old Mission to be used for the erection of a convent school. Herrara desired that his five other daughters be educated there.

Finally in 1876, the convent was completed and eight sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Marq arrived there to take charge. The school was opened August 16, 1876. A new parochial and grammar school was added to the convent in 1926. A fire razed the convent in 1930. The new school was named "The Mission High" in honor of the old padres.

Mission San Luis Obispo has been restored and its priceless ancient paintings and relics are treasures worth seeing.

IS GOOD POLICY!

IT IS good policy to check up on your lighting at least once a month. Replace lamp bulbs that have grown dim. Fill up the empty sockets and replace the small sized bulbs in floor and table lamps before headaches and eyestrain develop.

It is good policy, too, to see that the light on your porch or basement stairs is really good light. Most dangerous falls on stairs are caused by a misstep due to shadows and poor light. In the kitchen many cuts and burns might be avoided if just a little better light was by the kitchen sink or stove.

Good floor and table lamps today are inexpensively priced. Prices of lamp bulbs in sight-saving sizes are lower than ever and the reduced electric rates make better lighting a truly low cost monthly item. Check over the lighting in your home todav.
